

CAFA Achievement Award Nomination

The Achievement Award Committee, currently made up of Wellington Chan of Occidental College (chair), Wei-Chiang Shen of USC and Haw-Jan Wu of Whittier College, is taking nominations for our 2002 Achievement Award recipient, and would like to encourage you to send in your nominations by February 1, 2002.

Criteria for this distinguished award have always been broadly defined. We are looking for a Chinese-American professor who has established a record of nationally or internationally recognized achievements of distinction in his/her field of academic discipline. In making your nomination, please provide, in one paragraph or two, a brief background of the nominee and your main reasons why he or she deserves our award. Since we expect the recipient to be present at our 2002 Annual Convention to receive the award, you may also wish to indicate the likelihood of your nominee's availability to be at our convention on March 2, 2002.

Past recipients of this prestigious award include Profs. Nai-Chang Yeh of Cal Tech (2001), Jean Chen Shih of USC (2000), Alice Huang of Cal Tech and formerly of NYU (1999), and Tu-Nan Chang of USC (1998).

Please send your nominations by email or by phone to any of the following:
